Item 7.01. Regulation FD Disclosure.

Statements about the Accounting Impact of our Series I Warrants, Acquisition of BAF Technologies, Inc. ("BAF"), and our Acquisition of I.M.W. Industries Ltd. ("IMW") in the Third Quarter of 2010.

Clean Energy Fuels Corp. (the "Company") accounts for its Series I warrants as a derivative, which requires the Company to mark-to-market the Series I warrants at the end of each reporting period. The Company uses a Monte Carlo simulation model to value the Series I warrants, which requires the Company to make estimates regarding risk-free interest rates, the volatility of its stock price, and its anticipated dividend yield, among others. During the third quarter of 2010, the Company anticipates that it will record a non-cash gain of approximately $7.9 million related to valuing the Series I warrants. For more information about the accounting treatment of our Series I warrants, refer to notes 1(d) and 20 of our consolidated financial statements contained in our Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2009.

Additionally, accounting guidance for business combinations requires the Company to adjust certain liabilities in connection with any business combination for each reporting period, with a corresponding gain or loss reflected in the statement of operations, based on changes in the fair value of the obligation. The Company anticipates recording a gain of approximately $0.5 million related to an estimated reduction in the amount of additional consideration that the Company may need to pay to the shareholders of BAF in connection with the Company's acquisition of BAF on October 1, 2009. The contingent consideration was valued at $3.6 million as of June 30, 2010. BAF shareholders will be able to earn additional consideration if BAF achieves certain gross profit targets in fiscal years 2010 and 2011. The additional consideration will be determined as a percentage of gross profit based on a sliding scale that increases at certain gross profit levels, subject to achieving a minimum gross profit target and capped by a maximum additional payment amount. For 2010, the shareholders of BAF will receive between one and twenty-six percent of gross profit of BAF as additional consideration if BAF achieves $8 million or more in gross profit, up to a maximum of $11 million in additional consideration (which would be payable if BAF achieved approximately $42.3 million in gross profit in 2010). For 2011, the shareholders of BAF will receive between one and twenty-one percent of gross profit of BAF as additional consideration if BAF achieves $8.5 million or more in gross profit, up to a maximum of $11 million in additional consideration (which would be payable if BAF achieved approximately $52.4 million in gross profit in 2011).

The Company anticipates incurring approximately $600,000 of legal, accounting and other related charges in the third quarter of 2010 in connection with its acquisition of IMW that closed on September 7, 2010. The Company also anticipates incurring approximately $365,000 of amortization expense in the third quarter of 2010 related to the intangible assets acquired as part of the acquisition.

Special Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

Certain statements in this current report on Form 8-K constitute “forward-looking” statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, including the statements regarding the Company’s anticipated gain for the third quarter of 2010 related to the valuation of the Series I warrants, the anticipated gain related to the Company’s acquisition of BAF and certain costs associated with its acquisition of IMW. Forward-looking statements are based upon current assumptions, expectations and beliefs concerning future developments and their potential effect on our business. These forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance and involve risks, uncertainties and assumptions that are difficult to predict. Actual outcomes and results may differ materially from what is expressed or forecast in these forward-looking statements. Factors that might cause or contribute to such differences include, but are not limited to, those discussed in “Risk Factors” in Part I, Item 1A of our Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2009 and of our Form 10-Q for the quarter ended June 30, 2010. These forward-looking statements speak only as of the date they were made and we undertake no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.
