Monday April 7, 8:30 am ET

SEAL BEACH, Calif.—(BUSINESS WIRE)—Clean Energy Fuels Corp. (Nasdaq: CLNE - News) today announced that Vincent C. Taormina has been appointed to its board of directors. “We are pleased to welcome Vince to our Board and look forward to his contributions as a recognized industry leader in the refuse sector and for supporting the adoption of natural gas vehicles for this business,” said Andrew J. Littlefair, President and Chief Executive Officer. “His experience and expertise lends an important dimension to the breadth of resources represented on our Board to help guide our growth.

“Let me also thank David Demers, CEO of natural gas engine and fuel system manufacturer, Westport Innovations, for his excellent board service. While the extensive business relationships Clean Energy has with Westport prohibit David’s qualification as an independent director, we look forward to continued collaborations between our two companies as we work to expand our business,” said Littlefair.
